END-OF-LIFE PRODUCT SUPPORT – Multi RANGE

Plasmon IDE has a long tradition of designing and producing state-of-the-art library systems. As the technology has improved, and as the market for drives and media has evolved, Plasmon IDE has continued to develop new removable storage products which meet the needs of the market. As these new products are introduced, previous products are naturally discontinued. However, Plasmon's commitment to supporting discontinued products is among the best in the industry.

Our policy regarding support end-of-life products is:

Plasmon IDE will supply spare parts and depot repair services for all library products for a period of 5 years from the date of last manufacture.

For reference, the following is a list of the dates of last manufacture for all library products that currently fall within this policy.
